I saw the car, and I thought the worst.

2. This is a Napa story not of growing grapes.

Practice your little marble button game.
Gone are the gones, little hopes and lights.

When Jack Lyman and Helen Hoyt came back from that Harvard PhD study year 1922-3

Jack had been dropped as a UC Berkeley teacher
Moved to Southern California, taught, retired

They returned with son Amos to Napa Valley
Old family place Bayles Mills near St. Helena

Helen died: "Old Jack" lived to almost 100
"oldest living poet" Ruth Witt-Diamant said

Now time is yellow and what's it matter what
Last I heard Amos lives at the Mill. Colors.
